SCAD Polytechnic College Enhances Technical Competence Through Skill Training for First-Year Students

SCAD Polytechnic College organized an intensive Skill Training Program for first-year students on 03 December 2025 at its campus, aiming to cultivate strong technical foundations in electronics and electrical engineering domains. The initiative provided students with exposure to practical applications, hands-on training, and emerging technologies that are essential for building their engineering expertise.

The Electronics and Communication Engineering (ECE) department offered specialized training in Electronics Circuit Design, educating students on fundamental circuit concepts, component identification, and the design of basic electronic applications. This session helped learners understand essential principles needed for future coursework and project development.

Meanwhile, the Electrical and Electronics Engineering (EEE) department conducted training sessions on E-CAD, Simulation, and Basic Wiring Level 2, providing students with advanced knowledge of electrical design software, virtual simulation techniques, and practical wiring methods. Students were encouraged to explore real-world electrical systems and enhance their problem-solving abilities through hands-on practice. The event was efficiently coordinated by Mrs. Regis Carlin, Lecturer/ECE, along with Mrs. Anitha, Mr. Umanod, and Mr. Rameshmoorthy, Lecturers/EEE, whose dedicated efforts ensured a productive learning environment for all participants.
