Naan Mudhalvan Training Program Engages First-Year Students

On 17th September 2025, SCAD Polytechnic College organized a Naan Mudhalvan training session exclusively for the first-year CSE and ECE students to strengthen their communication and analytical skills. The session was led by Mrs. A. R. Dhamaa, an experienced trainer from the Associate Naan Mudhalvan Scheme, who engaged the students with interactive discussions on movie reviews and book reviews. A total of 57 students actively participated in the program, which aimed at developing their critical thinking, presentation, and review-writing abilities.

The discussions encouraged students to think critically, analyze content creatively, and express their views with clarity. The training also emphasized the importance of effective communication and analytical thinking in both academic and professional contexts. The event was meticulously coordinated by Mr. A. Arun Kumar, Lecturer in English, whose efforts ensured smooth execution of the program. Students shared positive feedback, build confidence and improve their review-writing skills.
