

INTERNSHIP TRAINING

You can obtain real-world experience in the field through an internship. It might introduce you to the typical demands and responsibilities of a profession without asking you to dedicate yourself entirely to that particular field. It can also assist you in determining whether a particular career path fits your skill set and personality. Because our college places a high value on student careers, 28 third-year CSE students are currently in their third day of internship training at TCDS Academy, Ambasamudram.
